

TO BUILD 3000 MILES OF RAIL LINES IN CHINA

American Corporations Formed to Handle Fund of $60,000,000

TO TAKE YEARS Americans to Be Chief Engineer and Other Officials of Roads

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Details of the proposed new American $60,000,000 loan for railroad construction in China, twice the size of any previous similar loan and arranged with a view to increasing the republic's debt to the United States by 50 per cent, were disclosed in details here today by David S. Rose, counsel for the American interests, after the publication of dispatches from Peking indicating conclusion of the agreement. Rose was present during most of the negotiations and drew up the contract which now has been signed.

Under the agreement, Mr. Rose said, the Siam-Carey Company of St. Paul, Minn., contracts to construct as soon as possible, with money furnished by the American International Corporation, 1500 miles of railroad through the richest sections of China and obtain an optional contract to build 1500 miles later.

China at present has but 3000 miles in the whole empire. Estimating the cost per mile at $40,000, completely equipped, the Siam-Carey contract calls for an expenditure of $60,000,000, with the possibility of doubling that amount if the option is taken up. The largest previous loan in China's history was the Hukang loan of 1911 by German, British, French and American bankers, totaling about $30,000,000.

Agreement Under Yuan. Negotiations for the new project were started last May during the visit in China of W. F. Carey. Agreement was reached through Tsao Ju Liang, the minister of commerce, just before the death of President Yuan Shikai. Late in May Carey returned to this country and during July completed arrangements for the financing of the undertaking through the American International Corporation in New York.

The contract does not call for any specific location for the new lines, but leaves that open to later discussion. Pending advice, however, suggests that they are to be built largely through the rich mineral and mining provinces of Shensi, Kansu, Hunan, Kwangsi, Kwangtung and Chekiang, which are largely in the British and French spheres of influence in China. Engineers are already at work and orders are expected very shortly in this country for construction materials.

The loan is to be secured by the property in the road itself and not by any concessions or government guarantees. Surprise over the announcement of such a tremendous project was expressed here, for the recent failure of a $30,000,000 loan to the Chinese government, which American financiers could get better terms abroad, seemed to show apathy among bankers here toward development in China. Moreover, ever since President Wilson's announcement at the beginning of the so-called six-power loan jeopardized the integrity of China, causing the American group to retire, Chinese influences have sought in vain to float a loan in the United States.

American Officials

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—In an announcement tonight giving the details of the Siam-Carey construction of the Chinese-Carey railway, the American International Corporation which is financing the project, says that the government has agreed to the appointment of an American chief engineer for the surveying and construction of the lines and that later he will act as chief engineer of the railroad.

The Chinese government has also agreed to the appointment of Americans as an auditor and a traffic manager. There are to be built 1100 miles of road between points to be agreed upon after investigation and plans will be taken, the corporation says, "to avoid interfering with any agreements concerning railway construction which may have been entered into by the Chinese government with the various foreign governments or financial groups."

The American engineer is to be appointed soon and proceed to China immediately. Probably a year will elapse before the lines are located, it is said. Preliminary contracts have been signed by the same interests, it was announced, for dredging the Grand Canal in China.

"HONOR" CONVICTS FLEE FROM FARM

OSBURN, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Escape of two convicts from the "Honor Farm" outside Sing Sing prison stirred the Mutual Welfare League, a convicts' organization, to offer rewards of $100 each for their arrest.

The men, Thomas Winters, sentenced for burglary, and Edward Kelly, sentenced for life for murder, fled last night from the prison farm at Osburn.

Warden Thomas M. Osborne said today that the Osburn camp had not been approved by him, but had been established by another warden.

The tentative assessment on personal property is placed at $500,000,000. UNCOVER BIG POOL BUREAU IN CHICAGO

Officials Make Raid Though Police Deny Existence

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—While Federal Judge Landis continued today to draw from reluctant witnesses testimony of a highly developed organization for gambling that the police previously declared did not exist, city authorities scoured around and uncovered evidence of a gambling pool in a raid on a downtown office building.

State Attorney Flynn, conducting an independent raid on the State's Club of America, declared he suspected that the funds derived from a large sale of associate memberships was used as a political fund for the benefit of Mayor Thompson.

Witnesses before Judge Landis told that the general news bureau of which Matt Tennes was the head, daily telephoned racing results to hundreds of "legit stores" and "spots" where bets were made. Gambling was the largest extended to Kansas City, St. Louis, San Antonio, Texas, San Francisco, Oklahoma City, Cleveland, Cincinnati and West Baden Ind. Witnesses testified, betting in this city through the various agencies of the Tennes pool had run as high as $100,000 a day. Tennes' personal profit from the organization, it was testified, was $4000 a month.

Police Captain Collins, who raided the basement pool, said paraphernalia for gambling had been found. It had been made for betting on the coming world's series. "Now cards were made, each containing combinations of six players," he said, "and there were thousands of such combinations. The documents indicated that as high as $1000 could be won by the holder of an especially successful combination."

FOR ROAD BONDS ONLY 408 QUIT Members of Hebrew Trades Are Again at Their Jobs

EUREKA, Cal., Oct. 12.—The seating of R. Suzuki, president of the Laborers' Friendly Society of Japan, as a fraternal delegate on the floor of the California State Federation of Labor convention, now in session here, with few dissenting votes, was the feature of today's meetings.

More than 500 delegates were in attendance to hear the address of welcome by Mayor E. Falk, President D. P. Haggerty presided.

Paul Schuremberg, secretary-treasurer, reported prohibition in his report, which was the subject of the executive council of the federation, which favored, he reported, the adoption of the November election of the following propositions:

The state highway $15,000,000 bond issue; direct primary; taxation of land values only and amending the highway act of 1909 so counties will bear part of the interest on road bonds.

Schuremberg said the executive council also would endeavor to have the legislature pass an anti-injunction law similar to the Clayton anti-injunction law passed by Congress.

STARTS TO KILL; KILLS WRONG MAN

Trouble Over Woman Results in Murder at Bakersfield

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 2.—Robert L. Stockton, aged 50, an oil worker, who came here from Danville, Ill., tonight shot and killed Edward Mull, aged 25, who was an innocent party. Stockton said he entered the Imperial saloon in East Bakersfield, revolver in hand, determined to shoot Otto Brown, a Shasta Pacific ship hand, who had been standing at the bar drinking, and Stockton's first shot hit Mull in the back, killing him instantly. Brown was unscathed.

The trouble between Brown and Stockton was over a woman. Brown tonight told Mull, who was previously administered to him a severe beating, Stockton was arrested and admitted the shooting to Assistant District Attorney Alfred Simeon, who secured a signed statement from the prisoner. Mull comes of a well known family here and was an athlete on the Kern county high school team a few years ago. He did not know Stockton. The woman in the case is known as Mrs. Brown.

SAYS ZEPPELINS TO BRING MAIL FROM GERMANY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—Early arrival in America of two German Zeppelins, bearing mail, was predicted today by P. J. Marks, who has just arrived in San Francisco from Germany. These aircraft, Marks said, had been constructed for the Trans-Atlantic mail service and were equipped to carry 60 tons of mail, and to stay in the air six days. They would be able, he said, to cross the ocean in three days.

Marks said also that the vessels were so constructed that they could descend to the surface of the water when on either the three mile limit and enter port like a steamship.

URGE CONTACT WITH FOREIGN FINANCE

Investment Bankers Want to Get in Touch With South America

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 2.—More than 500 investment bankers listened today to discussions as to the ways and means by which the Investment Bankers' Association of America can get in closer touch with the financial pulse of foreign nations, particularly those of South America.

The foreign relations committee of the association in its report before the convention here today, advanced a proposition that, in effect, would have the association as a body, co-operate and join the Philadelphia Commercial Museum, with the sole purpose of ascertaining more information relative to foreign countries.

A motion to this effect was adopted and the motion was referred back to the foreign relations committee to find the ways and means of bringing this about.

Following this, the convention listened to the report of the legislative committee relative to the progress made in the "blue sky" law cases in various states, municipal bond legislation and the income tax law.

N. Y. UNIONISTS IN SUPPORT OF STRIKE

Effort to Get General Walkout Is Admitted Failure

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Tact administration of the failure of the general sympathetic strike in New York in behalf of the striking street carmen was made in a report today to a gathering of labor leaders, which discussed the general situation. The leaders recommended that every union in the city be assessed one dollar for the benefit of the subway, elevated and surface car employees who are on strike in Manhattan, the Bronx and parts of Westchester county.

No decision as to further efforts to call off all unionists in sympathy with the strikers was taken and there was no formal admission that the strike had collapsed.

The committee still believes in the sincerity of the assurance given by representatives of important unions. It is its opinion that the rank and file of labor is in full sympathy with the strikers and in their fight to maintain their rights.

Police headquarters announced that a canvass made by policemen showed that only 408 men had responded to the call for a general strike.

More than 100,000 members of the United Hebrew Trades returned to work after their three-day holiday, as did 3,100 brewery workers.

DEATH OF THREE WOMEN A PUZZLE

Officers Are Going on Theory of Triple Murder

LANCASTER, Ohio, Oct. 2.—James A. Tobin, prosecuting attorney, announced tonight that a rigid investigation of the mysterious deaths of Misses Agnes and Alice Smitters and Miss May Stratum, who were found seated in chairs in the parlor of the old Smitters mansion here last night, could be made upon the theory of a triple murder. Twenty-four hours after the tragedy, the police and coroner's inquest had failed to disclose any substantial evidence of how the three women met their death.

Officers from the prosecutor's office tonight are making a working theory of the contents of the stomachs of the three women and a piece of pie from which they are believed to have eaten. The material for analysis was taken to Columbus today.

Officers from the prosecutor's office tonight have canvassed the private relations of the three women and found no possible motive to sustain the theory of murder. Suicide is not considered.

SHORTER HOURS FOR CLOTHIERS

Is Granted by Chicago Firms Without Demand From Workmen

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Simultaneously with the announcement tonight that 20,000 employees of the Wholesale Clothiers' Association here would voluntarily receive a reduction in working hours without loss of pay, the city's one-half hour for employees of the operating department all over the United States was announced by Wilson & Company, Arthur & Company, Swift & Company, Libbe, McNeil & Company, and Morris & Company.

The reduction in working hours was granted by the packers will affect 50,000 men employed in the big packing centers, while about 20,000 will be benefited by the reduction of hours in the clothing trades from fifty to forty-eight a week. To the packers the increase will mean an additional pay of $100,000 a year. The men in the clothing trades will benefit to the extent of $1,000,000 a year, it was announced.

RAIN PUTS OUT REDDING LIGHTS

REDDING, Oct. 3.—The towns of Kennel and Anderson are in partial darkness tonight according to reports which reached Redding tonight, as the result of violent electrical storm which visited this portion of the state today.

Considerable damage to power houses and sub-stations at several points accompanied the storm which was thought to be the fall end of the general downpour which swept the state Saturday and Sunday. Two inches of rain fell at Red Bluff.

TWO AGED WOMEN ARE SUFFOCATED

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Yecker, 70 years old, and Mrs. Lucie Yecker, 65 years old, both were suffocated tonight by smoke from a fire which caused a light damage in a three-story frame building in which they lived.

TO PREVENT ADULTERATION OF GASOLINE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—A constant complaint that automobile users are receiving adulterated gasoline from dealers has prompted the department of commerce to undertake standardization of gasoline. The standardization is being done by Secretary Redfield and Dr. W. H. Stratton, director of the bureau of standards, and it was agreed that Dr. Stratton should appoint a committee of experts from his bureau to define specifications for a standard gasoline. Later the committee will be notified by which the standard can be made effective.

KELP REAPERS SUFFER RASH; IS KELPITIS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—"Kelpitis" or something like that is the name given to a rash for a mackerel irritation which has appeared recently on the bodies of workers in the kelp-pole industry, off the coast of San Diego, Cal., according to C. L. Land, a kelp reaper, who returned to San Francisco today.

After two weeks on the reapers, said Land, "we found our legs and arms swelling painfully. We refused to quit and go ashore. The doctors didn't seem to know what it was but after a week ashore the swelling disappeared. The doctors have coined a scientific name for the disease that sounds like 'kelpitis'."

TOURS TUOLUMNE AND CALAVERAS

Governor Johnson Given Ovation in Mother-love Country

(Special to the Republican.) ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 2.—Up in the Mother Love district of the Sierras, say many counties, Tuolumne and Calaveras. Joined other counties of the state in presenting a solid front of Republicanism, the county of Tuolumne today, during its campaign for United States senator.

Driving from Modesto, the governor arrived in old "Timothy" at noon, where he was greeted by E. K. Thomas, chairman, and G. H. Segerstrom, secretary of the Republican county committee, both of whom were present at the meeting. Other prominent stand-pat Republicans, as well as J. C. Webster, leader of the Progressive wing of the G. O. P.

Despite a heavy rain storm, six hundred people gathered at Sonoma, in the pastion, for a square dance. The high school was used, the students attending in a body. Things introduced the governor in a friendly fashion, declaring that California, through the election of Johnson, was assured of a representative senator at Washington. One of the vice presidents of the meeting was A. B. Luchow, editor of the Tuolumne Independent, who has, heretofore, always opposed the governor. The rumor of political prediction is that with the Republican now united, Johnson will give a big majority in Tuolumne.

Angels Camp, the governor's regular headquarters, was met by Philip P. Pacheco, chairman and H. R. Rarden, secretary of the Republican county committee, with a delegation representing both wings of the party. Following a dinner given in his honor, the governor presided at an enthusiastic meeting, at which all the Republican county committee men, as well as most of the county officials, including Superior Judge Hancock, were on the platform. All the newspapers of Calaveras county, including one Democratic paper, are supporting the governor.

WILSON MANUAL FOR POSTMASTERS

Receives the Compliments of Republican Campaign Manager

(Special to the Republican.) NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Postmasters are sought as aids in the pro-Wilson campaign by the Democratic national organization apparently in violation of the law and of the declaration of the leader of the Democratic ticket, as evidenced by material received today by William R. Vilcox, chairman of the Republican national committee. A fourth class postmaster who knows that he is prohibited by statute from political activities and who respects the law, and the Democratic national committee's communication to Mr. Vilcox.

It is a pamphlet issued by and "with the compliments of the Democratic national committee organization bureau." It is entitled "Wilson Workers' Manual," and is rubber stamped "sample, additional copies on request." The envelope has "postmaster" printed on it in large letters and the name of the postoffice is given. The envelope is postmarked at the Grand Central station branch post-office, the nearest to the Democratic national committee offices in East 42nd street.

"This is an evidence of direct effort to prevent circulation of the law by federal clerks to civil service employees," said Mr. Vilcox. "It is not the first we have received. It betrays the impudence and the public utterances of the man for whom benefit it is done."

It does not seem proper to direct special clerks to civil service employees and that has not been done by this committee. This action taken by the Democratic national committee organization is directly contrary to the spirit of the civil service and ought to be condemned by all right thinking persons."

ROMANIANS INVADE BULGARIA, MAKING FOR BLACK SEA PORT

Make New Advance Also Against Austrians in Transylvania Fighting a Draw Nearly Everywhere

The Romanians have invaded Bulgaria, on the upper reaches of the Danube, between the fortified towns of Rusehuk and Tutshuk, where the river begins its bend northward, leaving Bulgarian territory and so on. The troops of Romania have made their way to the southern bank of the stream.

Just how many men were thrown across the river is not disclosed, either the Romanian or German official communications, but the strategic value of the maneuver seemingly is two-fold.

Ninety miles east from Turkukal, which lies at the western extremity of southern Bulgaria, is Varna, Bulgaria's chief seaport on the Black Sea. If sufficient men have been sent across the river and are sent along the Danubian-Bulgarian frontier toward Varna, not only would the seaport be in danger, but the move would contribute a serious menace toward the stability of the German-Bulgarian and Austro-Hungarian to the north.

Simultaneously with the announcement of the crossing of the Danube, comes a report from Budapest that a fresh attack along the entire front in Galicia has resulted in the defeat of the central and right flanks of the troops of the Central Powers.

In Transylvania, the Romanians on both sides of the great Kukul river have advanced against the Austro-Hungarian forces. The report from the front says that the Austro-Hungarians have captured positions from the Romanians.

FOUR KILLED IN ROW AT MANAGUA

General Chamorro, Conservative Now President of Nicaragua

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Oct. 2.—In a fight which broke out here yesterday during the election of General Chamorro as president of the Republic, Salvador Zelaya, a nephew of former President Zelaya, attacked a group of Conservatives, shooting and killing four of them. During the fighting Zelaya himself was seriously wounded, while a number of other persons, also were hurt. The police quickly intervened and quelled the disorder.

The four men killed were given military funerals today, thousands of Conservatives quietly following the bodies to the grave.

General Chamorro, who was unopposed for the office of chief executive, has been elected president of the Republic. For the last three years he has been Nicaraguan minister to Washington. Dr. Julian Trias, the Liberal candidate, withdrew from the contest ten days ago, giving as a reason that the state department at Washington had refused to recognize the election of a candidate who had been connected with the administration of former President Zelaya.

Except for the fighting in Managua, the election generally was a quiet one.

PACKING HOUSE IS GUTTED BY FLAMES

Morris & Co. Omaha Plant Destroyed; Loss $750,000

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 2.—Fire in the Morris & Co. packing plant, tonight gutted and structure, tonight, causing a loss estimated at $750,000. The loss is covered by insurance, according to local officials of the company.

The fire started in the sausage department and spread to the rest of the plant. The officers, the foremen and beef killing plants were the only departments saved.

Two thousand "night" cars which were in the company of the burning structure had to be moved.

Seven hundred employees of the Morris & Co. packing plant were there when the fire started at 10:30 p. m. and it was undisturbed before it was under control.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 2.—Twenty-five workmen were killed on Friday, through the collapse of a portion of the railway line, near the Vise-Archie-Charle line, according to the Echo Belge.

Several Bremens

GALVESTON, Texas, Oct. 2.—That two German merchant submarines named Bremen have fallen into the hands of the Entente allies and that a third, bearing the same name is now en route to the United States, is the report brought here by Captain H. Van Schoubert of the Belgian steamer Elizabeth Van Belle, which arrived today from Brest. Captain Schoubert declares that one of the merchant submarines was captured by the British and the other by the French. He says he learned this from good authority in France, but declined to name the port to which the captured ships were taken.

Reprisal Effective

BERLIN, Oct. 2, by Wireless to Sayville.—The German authorities, as a measure of reprisal, have sent 10,000 French prisoners of war into the hands of Russia, occupied by the Germans because German prisoners had been sent by the French to Morocco, Algeria and Tunis. The French authorities having now ordered these German prisoners to be sent back to France, the German measure, says the wireless, has been a successful one, as the 10,000 French prisoners are therefore being sent from Russia into German camps.

SAY CONFISCATION RESULT OF TAXES

Mining Interests in Mexico Appear Before Joint Commission

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 2.—A committee representing fifty mining and smelting companies operating in Mexico protested today to the American-Joint commission against which they called confiscatory decrees in that country and urged the return to the old methods of taxation.

William Loch Jr., representing the American Smelting and Refining Company, headed the delegation. It was the first time that witnesses had appeared before the American and Mexican commissioners.

The mass of statistics submitted to the American commissioners included a statement showing the decrease in the output of metal since 1912.

The American commissioners said that the export tax on gold and silver had been increased to four times what they were in 1912 and that now a heavy tax was placed on lead, copper and zinc when none had formerly been imposed. They also placed before the commissioners a statement showing heavy increases in other taxes affecting the industry and characterized them as confiscatory since the low grades of a great quantity of the ores produced made impracticable the operation of mines under such conditions. Many forfeitures already have been forced, according to the committee.

The actual movement of the companies represented was placed at $125,000,000. The American commissioners were assured that the mining operators are prepared to make the government contributions "which are not in the nature of arbitrary actions and which do not involve the practical confiscation of property and make impossible the operation of their enterprises on a business basis."

Secretary of the Interior Lane presided, the non-protection presented by the mining men and said that the commissioners would confer with them again tomorrow. They came here at the request of the American commissioners who wanted their statement of conditions because of the mass of contradictory evidence.

The joint session of the commission earlier in the day was marked by the presentation by the Mexicans of a plan of border patrols which included the withdrawal of the American forces.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 2.—The feature of Peoria's second annual Industrial parade tonight was a reproduction of the British tank, which is mounted on a steel frame, capable of moving all over the monster machine made up of the way through the streets. Five thousand persons marched.

FEDERAL BUSINESS--POLITICS

FORD IS FOR WILSON AT LEAST HE SAYS SO

But Gives No Further Evidence of Deep Interest in Campaign
President Will Make Four Trips Into the Middle West

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 2.—President Wilson's campaign program up to election day, early, was completed today at a conference that he held with Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic national committee.

The President also discussed politics with Henry Ford, automobile manufacturer and peace advocate, and Secretary of the Treasurer McAdoo.

Henry Ford remained with the President four hours and assured Wilson that he was willing to do everything possible to bring about his election. He said he had made no plans for contributing to the Democratic campaign fund because he did not believe in such a course.

"I think the office should seek the man, not the man the office," declared Ford.

Arrangements were completed for a trip of the President to Cincinnati, making four visits that he will pay to the middle west. He will speak in Cincinnati on October 26, under the auspices of the City Club.

The President's speaking program outlined tonight includes the following engagements:

Omaha, Neb., October 5; Shadow Lawn, October 12; Indianapolis, October 12; Pennsylvania day at Shadow Lawn, October 14; St. Louis and Ohio day at Shadow Lawn, October 17; Chicago, October 19; Farmers day at Shadow Lawn, October 21; Cincinnati, October 26.

Wilson leaves here tomorrow night for Omaha, going by way of Philadelphia and Chicago, and reaching Omaha Thursday morning. Mrs. Wilson and Secretary Tumulty will accompany him. He will return here Saturday morning.

"The message I am taking east is that California, Utah, Wyoming and Nevada will give their electoral votes to President Wilson," said Mr. Malone. "I have spoken in these states, and I know the sentiment of the people."

and other cities attended a breakfast here today in honor of a corps of twenty-five women speakers who later boarded the Women's Campaign Train for Hughes for a month's campaign tour of twenty-eight states.

Their first meeting was held on the lawn of the executive mansion at Albany this afternoon and was presided by a luncheon given by Mrs. Charles S. Whitman, the governor's wife.

Among the women campaigners are: Mrs. William R. Wilcox, wife of the chairman of the Republican national committee; Mrs. M. C. Brumbaugh, wife of the governor of Pennsylvania; Miss Helen Varick Boswell, national leader of Republican women; Mrs. Frank Gibson, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. R. Livingston Beckman, wife of the governor of Rhode Island.

FAIRBANKS SCORES WILSON ATTACK ON HUGHES

No Evidence That Republican Administration Would Mean War
Former Vice President Delivers Six Addresses in South

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 2.—Charles Warren Fairbanks, Republican candidate for Vice President, delivered his sixth address of the day, described as a "base utterance" such as has been made by President Wilson Saturday at Shadow Lawn, when he said the "certain prospect of Republican success" in November would be the use of force in Mexico and entanglement of this country in the embroilments of European war.

"The suggestion which is now and then heard," Fairbanks said, "to the effect that 'Republican victory' would tend to our entering the European war is a base utterance which the stress of a political campaign does not warrant."

Mr. Hughes, as President, will be careful of peace with honor. He will firmly insist upon the observance of our international rights—not as a means of war—but as an assurance against it. Not one word that has come from his lips can lead us to a national mind to the conclusion that we would jeopardize the peace of our country. He knows the law and the message of our rights and duties, and is the last man recklessly to invite war with any power upon either side of the Atlantic.

Discussing the tariff, Fairbanks pictured the necessity for a protective tariff as preparedness against the commercial invasion which, he said, would follow peace in Europe, when those who fighting return to poverty and unemployment and seek markets for their goods.

"We have razed our industrial coast defenses and are a mere target for the invader," he said. "We must not allow our industrial resources to be wrecked by our adversaries while we are engaged in a war with Germany."

The baneful effect of commercial invasion is a little less distressing than that of military invasion, for the horror of the battlefield is little more to be dreaded than despair and hunger in the homes of millions. These the millions have experienced under the two preceding Democratic tariffs.

Two preceding Democratic tariffs have this, as certainly as the succession of seasons, they will experience again if the breach in our industrial defenses is not repaired through the restoration of the protective policy. This is not theory; it is confirmed vicariously in the case of the two Wilson tariffs.

Speaks at Pasadena

PASADENA, Cal., Oct. 2.—Charles Warren Fairbanks, Republican vice presidential nominee, criticized the Democratic administration as "unsound" and "inefficient" today in a late luncheon address at the Maryland hotel and attacked the "false prosperity" of the last four years under Democratic government.

One of the first of the worst things which President Wilson did after his election, Fairbanks said, "was to commence breaking the pledges of the party which had elected him to office. His tariff propaganda and his personal control over Congress make him responsible for the conditions which have existed during the administration."

Fairbanks continued, saying in part: "What are we to do in the next four years? The war in Europe will soon end and then will begin the economic war, in which this country will play its most important part. I refer to this simply to emphasize the necessity of being taught to protect this country against conditions such as exist today. As we love our country, we should make sure not only against war, but also maintain the principles of the Republican party which have to do with the solution of the industrial evils which exist today and for which the administration of President Wilson is responsible."

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Norwegian steamer Rolf Jarl, 1265 tons, has been torpedoed, according to a Reuters dispatch from Tromsø. The crew was saved.

DENMAN MAY BE MADE MEMBER OF SHIP BOARD

LONG BEACH, Oct. 2.—Later Secretary McAdoo had a conference with President Wilson and discussed with him the selection of the members of the shipping board created at the last session of Congress and other public questions. Among the men mentioned as likely to be appointed to the board are Wm. Denman of San Francisco, an admiralty lawyer, and Bernard Baker of Baltimore.

Must Protect Commerce

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—William F. McComb, Democratic candidate for United States senator from New York, today delivered an address in which he declared for "immediate and untrammeled" commerce for the "United States." "Americanism must be practical," he said, "and we must seriously and sincerely insist that our commerce and our communications throughout the world pass through the channels of trade inviolate and untrammelled. We cannot with dignity tolerate discrimination."

Judge Samuel Seabury, Democratic nominee for governor, also made an acceptance speech today.

Some Predictions

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—A report that Hughes and Fairbanks will carry New York, Connecticut and New Jersey to Western Republican national headquarters today by Frank H. Hitchcock, a member of the Republican national advisory committee. He said that the sentiment in New York state outside of New York City appeared to be overwhelmingly for Hughes. In New York City, he said, there was considerable doubt as to the situation.

Favorable reports also were received from West Virginia. Hitchcock said. Plans for Hughes' third and final trip of the campaign through the West were discussed today at Western headquarters.

It is expected that Hughes will leave October 9 and speak in Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Oklahoma, Nebraska and North and South Dakota, though the itinerary has not been completed.

SANTA BARBARA PHONE COMPANIES COMBINE

Subscribers Saved $23-177.36 by R. R. Commission Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—Consolidation of all local telephone exchange properties in Santa Barbara and Santa Barbara county was authorized today by the State Railroad commission on condition that the amount of securities to be issued by the new company should be reduced by the amount of the commission stipulation agreeing never to claim for its franchise any value in excess of five amount originally paid for them.

The hearing in this application was held in Santa Barbara on September 12 and all rates, rules and regulations proposed at that time by the new company were authorized today.

The railroad commission declared today that the proposed rates might be established on trial and that the telephone subscribers of Santa Barbara county would save $23,177.36 a year through the elimination of duplicate telephones.

The company will be called the Santa Barbara Telephone company.

She apparently had been dead three or four days. The sheriff said that she was undoubtedly murdered.

ELKHART, Ind., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Mary Kimball, the name on a card in the pocketbook of the woman found dead near Grand Rapids, Mich., today is unknown here, the police being unable to find any trace of any one of that name living in Elm street, the address given on the card.

SUBMARINE NOW ACTIVE IN ARCTIC
CHRISTIANIA, Norway, Oct. 2. (Via London, 1:40 p. m.)—A German submarine has made its way into the Arctic ocean and has torpedoed three Norwegian steamships there.

The vessels torpedoed were the Sino, Iava and Rolf Jart. The crews were saved. Steamship traffic over the regular route covering the northern Norwegian towns has been stopped.

Since August the Germans have sunk Norwegian ships valued at $9,000,000.

The Sino's gross tonnage was 1925 and that of the Rolf Jart 1253. There are listed three Norwegian steamships Iava, all of them under 1100 tons.

The purpose of the German submarine operations probably is to interfere with the transportation of war materials to Russia.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The British schooner William George, 151 tons, and Pearl of Tuna, 144 tons, and the Norwegian schooner Manuel of Tonsberg, have been sunk.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 2.—The military critic of the Frankfurter Zeitung says conditions for Zeppelin attacks on England are much more difficult than even a year ago. The British, he says, have had time to carry their defence measures to the highest perfection.

WANT TO WITNESS HUGHES INAUGURAL

Straw Vote Is Taken of National Guard Unit in New York

(Special to the Republican.) NEW YORK, Oct. 2. At a meeting of a National Guard unit of sixty men, just held in New York, the captain took a vote upon whether the company should go to Washington March 4, 1917, to march in the inaugural parade, as it has at previous inaugurations.

The company is composed largely of hoboing men and 50 per cent of them are union men—plumbers, expressmen, motormen and workers in other trades.

"If President Wilson is re-elected," said the captain, "who wants to go to Washington to march in the inaugural parade?"

Every man in the company sprang to his feet.

To Visit San Diego
SAN DIEGO, CAL., Oct. 2.—Charles W. Fairbanks will arrive in San Diego early tomorrow morning for his speech at the Panama-California International Exposition in the afternoon.

As a guest of the Indiana Society, he will be taken for an automobile ride around the city and to Point Loma in the morning and then to the exposition, where he will be tendered a reception and luncheon by the exposition committee.

Reed on Roosevelt
PORTAGEVILLE, Mo., Oct. 2.—United States Senator Reed of Missouri, in a speech here tonight, said that the Republican party is becoming the war party of the country.

"Roosevelt is in supreme control of the Republican party," he said. "Roosevelt's speech, delivered last Saturday at Battle Creek, Mich., is a battle-cry. It is a demand for war against Germany, which no rational human being can mistake. His words either are the demand of a sincere man who believes our national honor was sacrificed when we failed to go to war and who proposes to wipe out the stain upon our national honor by the stain of blood, or his words are the mere vapors of a demagogue who hopes to gain political advantage by arousing a war spirit with no purpose of actually bringing on a conflict with Germany."

Frigate Is Burned
EASTPORT, Maine, Oct. 2.—The famous old United States frigate Franklin, flagship of Admiral Farragut on his European cruise in 1867, and for the last thirty years receiving ship at the Norfolk Navy yard, was burned on the beach here late today for the metal in her hull.

The Franklin was built at the Charles-town navy yard in 1818 and when launched was the largest and best equipped ship in the navy. She cost $1,311,000 and was sold for $16,000.

Substitute Electors
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—L. P. Puterbaugh and Irving C. Asherman of San Francisco were named today as presidential electors at a special meeting of the Democratic state central committee to fill vacancies caused by the withdrawal of Superior Judges Peter J. Shields of Sacramento and Emmett Sewall of Santa Rosa.

The withdrawals were caused by the raising of the question whether the superior judges were qualified to serve as electors without disqualifying themselves as judges. The committee decided to take no chances.

Goethals to Retire
NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Major-General George W. Goethals, governor of the Panama canal zone, arrived here tonight from Colon on the steamship Pastores of the United Fruit line. General Goethals said that he did not expect to return to the canal zone as he plans to retire from the army in December.

ONLY ONE KILLED IN ZEPPELIN RAID
English Spectators See Remarkable Scene in Blaze in Air

LONDON, Oct. 2.—(4:12 p. m.)—Ten Zeppelins took part in last night's raid over England. Two of them attempted to attack London. One was driven away and the other was destroyed. An official account of the raid follows:

"Ten airships crossed the east coast night between 9 o'clock and midnight. One airship approached the north of London about 10 p. m., but was driven off by gunfire and pursued by aeroplanes. She attempted to return from the northwest but was attacked by guns and aeroplanes and brought to earth in flames near Potter's Bar shortly before midnight.

"A second airship attempted to attack London from the northeast and was driven off. Bombs were dropped. No reports of casualties or damage have yet been received.

"The remaining airships wandered aimlessly over the eastern counties. In Lincolnshire bombs were dropped promiscuously, most of them in open country, without doing damage."

CHANCE FOR YOU

The farmers of Fresno county should give a ready ear to Secretary William Robertson of the Chamber of Commerce and his assistants, who will call their attention to the value of a farm adviser to this county. It is a wise provision of the farm adviser system that the service shall be secured to a county by co-operation between private initiative and public support. The major portion of the expense of having an adviser, in fact nearly all of it, is supplied by the county and by the State University. But it is necessary that farmers make the system their own by subscribing a nominal sum for the establishment of the office and its maintenance.

It is assumed that if the farmers of any given county do not desire information about the betterment of their farms and an opportunity to gain information about better methods of production and marketing, it will be useless for some one to try to force it on them. Therefore the farm adviser system must be started by the farmers' initiative. The part any particular producer is asked to play is that of subscribing a dollar to the fund, and then in associating himself in the organization of a farm center.

The farming population of the country is like all other vocations, now engaged in a keen struggle for existence. The shiftless farmer will find himself running behind in his business. Enterprise includes knowing all that is to be known about getting the most out of the soil, year in and year out, and in knowing the most about making economic use of animals and plants and trees. New advances are being made every year. What was new and theoretical information ten years ago may now be practical and proven. The farm adviser is the man to tell you. The farmer needs him in his business. Hand in your name to the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce as a subscriber.

MAY LEAD TO GRAFT

The protest of business men against the holding up of the announced census report on dyestuffs production by the United States government has brought to public attention what might be an enormous source of graft. Hitherto it has been assumed that the operations of the statistical department of the government were directed according to rules that were scientifically perfect, and that the only precaution that was necessary was to see that there should be no leaks to interested parties. There have been in the past one or two suggestions of such corruption, which have been promptly rebuffed, and the government cleared of any possible taint of improper management. Now, however, it is brought to light that the government officials are employing "discretion" in the matter of when the publications shall be made.

To the man not specially interested, it may appear to be unimportant whether the United States Department of Agriculture's guess about the number of sacks of corn to be harvested this year is published today or tomorrow. It is no trivial matter to the dealer, however. It may mean a fortune to him, or bankruptcy. If, therefore, it should be possible for a dealer to hasten or delay the publication of the estimates of the department, it might be greatly to his advantage.

In this particular instance, the government is said to have delayed the publication of dyestuffs figures in the interests of certain importers. It may have caused no harm to any other dealers, or it may have done much. The point is, that if it is possible for the department to do this, it may easily be possible for some future Bryan in the cabinet to look out for some "deserving Democrat" by jockeying with the crop of census reports to the great disadvantage of all the rest of the traders and the general public. It is a bad business. The proceedings for handling statistics should be reduced to a schedule absolutely unalterable by the whim of any group of politicians in the administration.

FORD HELPS

Henry Ford has contributed once more to the mass of literature on the subject of his eccentricities. He is a clever advertiser or just a fool on everything but making automobiles. He takes a special trip to Washington to cheer up President Wilson by telling him that he is for him for President, but goes out of the way to remark that he will contribute nothing to the President's campaign fund, "because he believes that the office should seek the man."

This is, to be sure, precisely the reason that Mr. Ford should contribute to Mr. Wilson's fund, if he is sincere in wishing Wilson to be President. There are certain very legitimate expenses of any campaign, such as hiring halls, paying railroad fares for speakers, and for printing. Someone will have to pay these expenses. If a candidate does not have enthusiastic supporters to contribute these funds, the candidate must put them up himself, or not run at all. If he puts up this money himself, it is the "man seeking the office." If others want him to run and want him bad enough so that they are willing to pay the hat and drop something in it themselves, then "the office is seeking the man." If Henry Ford thinks that Wilson should be re-elected President of the United States, he should assist the office in seeking the man, by helping to give the people of the United States a chance to know all about Wilson.

This is not to say that Ford should give a million to help elect a President. But he might show his good faith by throwing a quarter to Vance McCormick, as that avowed campaign manager looks expectant.

HOW MANY BREMENS?

If we are to credit the reports from sources of European war news, there must have been a whole flock of "Bremens" built by the Kaiser. Are they cruising about in the Atlantic, vainly endeavoring to find an opening into an America port, or have they all fallen victims to the British sea control?

It is just possible that there are no Bremens at all, and that the Deutschland was an experiment in submarine building that was not found profitable to the German war chest. It is probable that there has been as much rubber smuggled past the British sea control in the Deutschland as there was the entire cargo of the Deutschland. Possible the stories about the trip of the Deutschland was just one of the Kaiser's tricks, intended to keep a maximum number of ships of the Allies busy off the Atlantic coast, while the German war divers were busy sinking Allied and neutral shipping on the European side.

WHAT IS GASOLINE?

That gasoline is being adulterated has come to the ears of the powers at Washington, and they are going to have an "investigation." What is needed apparently is a pure food law for the favorite food of motor cars. It is hard enough to have the price of gasoline vary in accordance with the square of the distance from a filling tank, but when, in addition, the joy rider must also guess as to whether he is paying for gasoline and getting distillate, it is time for a little more application of the paternalistic theory of government. The famous whisky controversy may be outdone in a government debate on "What is gasoline?"

GUNS OR MEN?

No wonder the Russian government is indifferent to the number of men killed in the war. A government report issued at Petrograd yesterday declared that in the last fifteen years the population of the Russian empire had increased by fifty-three millions, or 42 per cent, while in the year 1915 it had increased 3,500,000, or 2 per cent. Can you blame the Czar for being more careful of his guns than of his men? The trouble is that his men reciprocate the feeling, and frequently think more of a bomb than they do of the Czar.

The people of Peoria are celebrating the transformation of their tractor machine into an instrument for murder in Europe. They should be ashamed of themselves. Gun making for strife may be necessary, but it is nothing to glout over.

Putting Mexico in Order, Half a Century's Task

It implies the Regeneration of the Whole People

By John L. W. Birkinbine

Formerly Chief Engineer, the Oaxaca Coal and Iron Company, Mexico, and the Pueblo and Pacific Railroad; Author of "The Story of Iron" (Copyright, 1916, by The National Editorial Service, Inc.)

Politically, although by no means socially, Mexico today is in the revolutionary stage of our own American colonies during the late Seventeenth and early Eighteenth Centuries. Just as there existed then in the colonies no common interests greater than those of the small local towns and villages, so in Mexico the people have no interest and therefore no authority in matters affecting either their state or their national affairs. The sole difference is that the Mexican does cheer and cherish a national emperor, but that does not prevent the existence of the spirit of practical nationality.

For Mexicans to achieve a true nationality they must first be taught nationhood; only then will they be fitted to advance in the national co-operations which are the outgrowth of intelligent operations among state units. It required practically a century each for these essential and indispensable steps: unified nationality on the part of that pure white human strain which is best adapted for civilization and self government. Mexico is only 15 per cent white and the aboriginal forms of government—Aztec, Toltec, Zapotec and Mixtec—which worked very well within their limitations, have been entirely obliterated. The slight respect still paid for the descendants of the ancient Aztec hierarchy and for the ruins of the ancient places of worship are all that endure. Mexico has supplied practically nothing to replace the old, extinct machineries of government. Its constitution, first promulgated in 1811 and interpreted after that of the United States, is excellent in theory but has proved utterly inapplicable to the Mexican people. It gives them a form of political indulgence of which the symptoms have been series of revolutions, interrupted only by the beneficial tyranny of Porfirio Diaz. Ideal as it would be for the genius of the people, any restriction of the ancient Mexican civilization is beyond even speculation. If a modern constitution cannot be fitted to the people, the people must be fitted to the constitution.

The undertaking must begin with the imposition of an authority—internal or external—so complete and so firm and so lasting that all local leaders shall be relegated to military oblivion. There is no prospect of the development of any adequate internal power.

Once cured of its habits of revolution and anarchy, the Mexican people will be amenable to the influence of education. The people, despised as he commonly is and dangerous as he can be, constitutes the hope of Mexico. In any mechanical field, in all the arts, the latent genius of the Mexican Indian is unsurpassed. Indeed, it is equalled. Thought to educate the immense riches offered by his country and made to realize the benefits and the responsibilities of self government, the Mexican will be able to carry his own burden; and the development of Mexico will come from within, not from without.

The major portion of the legitimate concessions held by foreigners today in Mexico were granted by the late President Diaz only after having been offered first to white Mexicans—the moneyed class of the population—whose knowledge of their country's uncertain political conditions made them prefer investments in pulque and sugar plantations, where they could have a major domo in charge while they spent their lives in the ease and luxury of Paris or Madrid.

The United States is the sole agency existing for the enlightenment of the Mexican people from their ignorance and chaos, even as it is now financially the owner of Mexico. Annexation, so dreaded by Mexicans and often mooted here, would be sheer madness on our part, not merely because of the impossibility of assimilating Mexico's fourteen millions of Indians and half breeds, but mainly because the states nearest our Southern border—Lower California, Sonora, Chihuahua and Coahuila—are so badly deserts impossible of reclamation. An area of 23,000 square miles with a total population east of one million, that the ungrateful and equally impracticable labor of re-creating Mexico is uncalculable.

Will fifty years be long enough for it?

HOW MORGAN TOOK A PARTNER

"Mr. Morgan wants to see you in his library at 3 o'clock," was the message received one day by the vice president of a New York bank.

He hadn't the slightest idea what the veteran financier could want with him. He had met Mr. Morgan, as most other financiers had, during the previous days when the master mind of them all was trying to stem the 1907 panic, but had not seen anything of Mr. Morgan until the spring of the following year, when, with Senator Aldrich and other members of the monetary commission, he had spent a Sunday at Mr. Morgan's London home. Between then and the receipt of the above message in the fall of 1908 he had seldom spoken to Mr. Morgan.

Promptly at 3 o'clock the young banker, wondering what the matter could be, rang the bell of the famous Morgan library. On being ushered in he almost collided with Mr. Morgan at the entrance to his private room. Mr. Morgan shook hands and bade the puzzled visitor be seated.

"Do you realize it is pretty near the 1st of January?" he asked.

The young banker, very much at sea, agreed that it was—this was about the middle of November.

"Are you ready?" asked Mr. Morgan.

"Ready for what?" queried the astonished visitor.

"For what?" echoed Mr. Morgan. "You know I want you to come and join my firm on the 1st of January."

"You never said anything about it, Mr. Morgan."

"I thought you knew by my expression what I thought of you," said Mr. Morgan.

"Mr. Morgan, have you ever fallen from an eighteen-story building?"

It was Mr. Morgan's turn to be astonished.

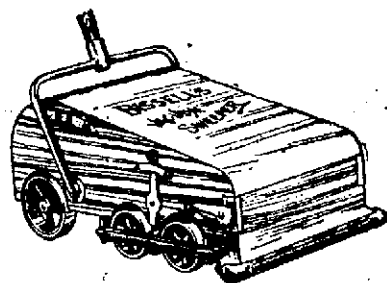

"No," he replied, scrutinizing his visitor.

"Well, I never have before, and it will take me a minute or two to catch my breath."

Mr. Morgan laughed.

And that was how Henry P. Davison, then only 40, as notified of his selection as a partner in the greatest international banking firm in the United States—J. P. Morgan & Co.

WILL PLAN WORK OF PLAYGROUNDS

The regular meeting of the playground commission will be held at the city hall tonight. In addition to the routine business, the commissioners will plan for the coming year's work. The appropriation by the city trustees for the department was $14,000 for the coming year. The same amount was allotted last season. With the recent equipment of two other playgrounds, it is probable that some improvements will have to be made to keep all of the play lots open during the coming season.

NEED STRONG SUN TO SAVE RAISINS

Unless Wet Weather
Changes Much Damage to Growers Will Follow.

Though raisins drying on paper trays will undoubtedly suffer considerable damage as the result of the frequent rains in this locality since Saturday morning, the general raisin industry will not be injured to any appreciable extent unless the wet weather continues. It was reported yesterday by experts.

"In that case," said James Madison, general manager of the California Associated Raisin Company, yesterday, "the harm done will probably be great."

"At present we need a sharp sun and a strong wind. Without that, and a shrug of the shoulders concluded the sentence."

Weather conditions were responsible for the postponement yesterday of the initial shipment of the new crop of raisins. It was expected that a load of 1916 raisins would start for the markets during the first days of the new month, but Madison stated yesterday that the rains made this impossible. He was unable to say, he said, when the first shipment would be sent out.

The rain will also have a damaging effect on the fig crop. It is predicted, the ripe figs on trees being in danger of rotting and the figs on the ground of rotting. Table grapes will probably not sustain any damage through the rain.

INDIAN MURDERER TO BE ARRAIGNED TODAY

Admits Victim Was Not Armed; Sheriff Is After Booze Seller

With the sobering effects of a night in jail, Jim Lewis, slayer of a fellow Indian, Henry Bob, on the Butte vineyard, Sunday afternoon, yesterday admitted to Sheriff Thorwaldson that he had struck Henry Bob in a drunken fight when Bob was unarmed.

"Me just drunk," was his excuse. Yesterday morning a coroner's jury held that the death was homicidal and that Lewis was the author of the crime.

Despite his frank and open confession to the killing, neither Lewis or other members of the camp will tell where they obtained a gallon of whiskey obtained earlier in the morning, and which was responsible for a series of encounters.

"There has been too much liquor sold to Indians recently," said Sheriff Thorwaldson yesterday. "Usually when a sale is traced down we find that it is made by some irresponsible party—a tramp or town loafer. However, I have reason to believe that in some instances Indians have purchased liquor in saloons and wholesale stores. The sale of liquor to Indians is a felony, and parties guilty of such traffic will certainly be prosecuted."

It is the plan of the district attorney to arraign Lewis today and hold his preliminary at an early date, before the witnesses return to their homes in the mountains.

PHILLIPS STARTS WHIRLWIND FIGHT

Leaves on Sweep Through Practically Every Town in District

A whirlwind campaign that will carry him through practically every town, big and little, in the seventh congressional district will be opened today by W. V. Phillips, congressional candidate, with meetings at Lemoore, Hanford and Hanford.

Phillips will be given Phillips at both Lemoore and Hanford and speeches will be delivered there by him, his appearance at Hanford will be more in the nature of an informal visit. He will attend the opening night of the Kings County Fair there and will be accompanied by Charles A. Kimble of Lemoore, chairman of the Republican County Central Committee of Kings county. The entire evening will be spent there meeting friends and supporters. Later, when a date has been set for the appearance at Hanford of Governor Johnson in his senatorial campaign, Phillips will be invited to address the big meeting. At that occasion Assembly candidates will also be among the speakers.

With the exception of Sundays, every day between now and election will find the Republican congressional candidate from the seventh deep in his campaign work and not a working day will be passed without at least three towns being visited.

Locally, the Republican County Central Committee is also actively engaged in perfecting its organization. Another luncheon was held yesterday by the members at the Sequoia Grill, and it was agreed to meet daily thereafter for luncheon and to discuss any and all political subjects that might arise during the day.

Local headquarters have been opened by the Republican committee on J street, south of Mariposa, in the Mason building. Oscar O. Collins, a young attorney, has been placed in charge. B. W. Gearhart has been appointed chairman of the finance committee of the county central.

BRUTAL HUSBAND IS DIVORCED BY WIFE

Woman Says Spouse Hit
Her and Tore Off
Her Clothing

Mrs. Grace Truman Bowling of Reedley, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Charles Lee Bowling, yesterday by Judge George E. Church of Department No. 2 of the Superior court. Mrs. Bowling told the court that her husband struck her with his fists on different occasions and that once he tore all her clothing off.

The couple married in Murfreesboro, Tenn., February 13, 1929, and separated April 6, of this year. Mrs. Bowling was granted the custody of two minor children born of the union. Bowling did not appear in court to combat the action.

SUPERVISORS ASKED TO BUY CEMETERY

Old Chinese Burying Grounds Urged As Public Park

Supervisors of Fresno county this week are asked to consider a petition filed a month ago for the purchase of the old Chinese cemetery for a public park. The tract consists of four and a half acres and is four blocks north of Olive avenue, and three blocks west of Vishon avenue. The cemetery has been abandoned for more than two years.

The signers to the petition, seventy-two in number, include the Normal school trustees. Reports say that the land is topographically ideal for the purpose, which the petition of purchase urge. The land is high. The cemetery is reasonably close to the Normal school.

I will not be responsible for any bills contracted by any one unless contracted by myself.

Octogenarian Celebrates Birthday; Has Lived in Fresno Over 33 Years

Captain W. H. Payson, hale and hearty in spite of the fact that he has long since passed the three-score-and-ten mark, celebrated his 80th birthday yesterday. Captain Payson has lived in Fresno continuously for the past thirty-three years, only leaving twice for short visits to the Panama-Pacific Exposition and to the sea coast. For over thirty years the captain followed the sea as a sailor and master, taking to the sailor's life when he was 14 years old.

Payson was born in Lincolnville, Maine, October 2, 1856. His three daughters, Mrs. J. A. Webster, Mrs. Fred Gregory and Miss Adeline G. Payson, celebrated with the octogenarian yesterday.

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

A SIMPLE, SAFE, RELIABLE WAY
People who are overburdened with superfluous fat, know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to bear.

If you are carrying around five or ten pounds of unhealthy fat you are necessarily weakening your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.

There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way, without starvation diet or tiresome exercises, here is a test worth trying. Spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply and get from the San Joaquin Drug Co. or any good druggist a box of oil of korein capsules. Take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take and helps digestion. Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight. Footsteps become lighter, your work seems easier and a lighter and more buoyant feeling takes possession of your whole being.

Every person who suffers from superfluous fat should give this treatment a trial.

Borch, of Boise City, Idaho, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Short, with an informal tea, which gave their friends an opportunity of bidding these popular visitors adieu.

The tea table was particularly attractive with its centerpiece consisting of a wonderful old-fashioned silver epergne in three parts, each of which were filled with quaint bouquets of garden flowers.

Mrs. Frankie Shepherd presided at the tea. Throughout the house, autumn foliage and shrubs were arranged.

About twenty-five guests called during the afternoon.

Mrs. Frank H. Short hosted an informal supper Sunday evening at the Sunnyside Country Club in honor of Mrs. William E. Borch. Flowers from the club gardens made effective table decorations. Among the Clubs

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Lowell school yesterday afternoon held a very successful meeting, having an attendance of fifty-two. Roy, C. C. Ruess aroused the enthusiasm of his hearers by outlining a possible platform for the year's work. He was followed by a few words from C. C. Starr, superintendent of schools. Signet passed among the audience resulted in a number of subjects for future discussion, and also suggestions for programs. A committee was appointed, including the executive board and Mrs. C. C. Ruess and Mrs. Walter Dodge, to work out plans for the work to be accomplished this year. As a start toward playground equipment, it was voted to spend $10 for base and balls. It was also proposed to try to rent a piano, making possible some musical programs.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Talks

If you want advice on beauty topics, write to Lillian Russell, one of the most popular and successful beauty experts in the world. Her advice is free, and she will be glad to answer all questions. It is a common-sense, practical, and up-to-date advice that should be read by every woman.

EASE SHORTENS LIFE

(Copyright, 1916, by Lillian Russell) Naturalists say that long ago the primitive man was afflicted with a species of enormous shark, which became extinct finally by reason of the workings of its enormous appetite. Thus nature eliminates the overfed, and life is destroyed by an abuse of life-giving elements.

The desire for ease of life and plentiful diet is universal and is common alike to all created beings, men and animals. Nowadays, few of the animals defy the laws of right living. It is chiefly man who becomes greedy, taking more ease and more food than nature discards him.

Men and women of today, in the race for power and place, in the struggle for social prestige and for ease of circumstance, and in the desire for stimulus of hunger, are apt to forget that unless they are careful of their bodies they will soon be made to suffer for the breaking of nature's inexorable physical law.

With the loss of body tone comes an equal loss in mental activity, and the brain, which for a time was able to operate despite the complaints of an overfed, unexercised body, stops working. Women under these conditions lose their charm of form and features as well as those mental attractions which most women know how to use to offset physical defects.

Statisticians have discovered that the mortality rate of persons in the United States over 45 years of age is increasing. The strenuous life of today is not alone responsible for this.

Lack of health-giving exercise, superfluity of diet, lack of restoring sleep, overstimulation, the high pressure of the race for power, wealth and position, plus physical neglect—these all bring early decay.

The goal is reached, wealth is amassed—honor, position and power are being grasped when the apple of accomplishment turns to the ashes of dissolution. The brilliant mind becomes clouded, the steady hand is no longer accurate, the eye which once gazed fearlessly on the whole world is dimmed, and it is not long before the final break occurs. All of this is entirely preventable.

It is the person who leads the well-balanced life, other things being equal, who lasts the longest, whose work in the end is uniformly the best. It is that person who neither overworks, over-eats, over-drinks, nor over-sleeps, but who maintains a standard of simple, healthy diet in moderation and who offsets mental work with physical recreation. In other words, the person who is as honest with his own body as he is with his business. When success comes to such a man and woman, their physical and mental condition is such that they can enjoy in peace of mind and contentment of body the fruits of their labors.

To keep in physical condition, to guard one's body against disease and decay, is certainly worth while. Will you profit a man that he gain the whole world yet lose his health?

MINISTERS CONDEMN FAIR RUNNING SUNDAY

To Prepare Resolutions Against Act of Fair Directors

Resolutions condemning the action of the Fresno District Fair directors in holding the fair open over Sunday were ordered prepared by the Fresno Ministerial Union yesterday. The ministers also condemned the games of chance said to have been active on the amusement zone. A committee of which Rev. W. L. Dexter of the Grace Methodist church, and Rev. T. T. Giffon of the First Congregational church are members, was instructed to draw up a set of resolutions for publication. The committee will work on the resolutions today.

Other business transacted by the ministers included a discussion of the dry situation, and speeches from members of the California Campaign Federation, who presented various aspects of the prohibition fight to the ministers.

Rev. H. Gill and James M. Whitman, representing the National Federation of Churches, appeared before the meeting to present a plan for the federation of all churches in the country. The plan was discussed, but was believed unwise at the present time by most of the pastors.

CAMPAIGN FOR FARM
ADVISER AGAIN ON

With Fair Days Over C. of C. Gets Busy on
Many Projects

With the District Fair a thing of the past, the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce commenced yesterday to start in motion a number of projects for the betterment of local conditions.
Chief among these will be the winning of a campaign for 250 members for the Farm Bureau, that this county may secure a farm adviser without further delay. This proposition has been in the hands of the Chamber of Commerce for a considerable period, but the arrival of fair days interrupted the work.

It is likely that Secretary Robertson of the Chamber, and his assistant, George Rother, will be detailed by the directors to visit all the centers not yet listed in the proposition to obtain the needed signatures. A big mass meeting of the representatives of the districts already engaged in the fight will be held at a near date to boost the completion of the work.

Another civic improvement long considered by the Chamber of Commerce is the establishment of a municipal automobile parking site and camp place. When the Fresno automobile caravan journeyed to Sacramento recently to attend the State Fair, the automobile found plenty of free camping places, equipped with gas, electricity and an excellent sanitary system.
This matter will be given attention by the directors of the Chamber probably at their next meeting.

"BIG BILL" FARNUM GRIPS AUDIENCES AT KINEMA

William Farnum, now appearing in "The Fighting Man of Sorrows"—at Kinema

It is truly remarkable the way William Farnum reaches one climax after another until one cannot see just how he can go further, but when the real climax is reached in "The Fighting Man of Sorrows," taken from the famous play "Hoodman Blind," every living soul wants to get up and cheer him for the beating he gives the villain in the public square.

As this play, which is shown at the Kinema today features "Bill Farnum," one can rest assured of a good entertainment that thrills and grips from the start to finish, as do all of his plays.

LABORER ATTEMPTS TO KILL FELLOW WORKER

Grape Picker Owes Life to Cartridge That Did

Speros Plutos, a laborer on the L.
A. Blasingame vineyard near Helm, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff R. G.
Johnson yesterday morning, charged with an assault on Nick Louzedes, a fellow laborer, with an attempt to commit murder. Plutos was arraigned before Judge Graham yesterday afternoon. He will be given a hearing today.

But for the fact that a revolver cartridge failed to explode, Plutos might have wounded Louzedes, according to the story of the latter. By the time that Plutos had drawn back the hammer of the revolver the second time, Louzedes had grappled with him, and the bullet flew wide. The attack is said to have been the outcome of a feud of more than a week. It is alleged that Plutos purchased the revolver an hour before the shooting, with the express purpose of killing Louzedes. His attack on the latter was without provocation according to Johnson, and when he pulled the trigger the first time, he held the revolver within a few inches of Louzedes' head.

PLAZA'S OPEN-AIR VAUDEVILLE SEASON CLOSING TONIGHT

The Dunbars, who present musical farce "Zoological Garden"—Plaza tonight

Tonight's two performances of Eastern Vaudeville, will conclude the season at the popular open air playhouse.

As a close of the season feature, the management of the Plaza has arranged to give away a fat, lively, greasy pig, to the person who will volunteer to catch the animal single handed, and carry it home.

At the close of the regular performance, the porker is to be turned loose on the stage, and the race for possession will begin.
This hog catching contest was a tremendous success at the Empress Theater, in San Francisco, and so many clamored for admission, that the police had difficulty in keeping order in front of the playhouse.

Manager Farrar announced yesterday that the pig which is to be given away at the Plaza, would be well greased with several kinds of oils and lubricants, making it exceedingly hard to catch, so the audience can look for some unique fun.

Excellent Vaudeville "Bill" for Close of Season.
The program of Eastern Vaudeville which will be offered at the Plaza Airdome for the last time tonight, is without a doubt one of the best balanced variety shows, seen here in many a day.

The Dunbars offer the headline act of the new show, with a clever presentation of the laughable farce comedy, "Fun in a Zoological Garden."

Herbert and Dore, have a sensational athletic act that scores heavily at each performance—George Barnes, a thoroughbred monologist wins favor with some well told stories, and several delightful songs.

The Musical Bentler's achieve a wonderful measure of popularity with their Marchingband and Xylophone numbers.

Then the closing program is given added enjoyment by the addition of an interesting Pathe News.

After tonight's two performances the Plaza Airdome will be closed until the beginning of the Summer Vaudeville season next May.

FRESNO MEN WILL ATTEND CANAL CONGRESS

Local Representation to Be Had at Big Meet of Irrigationists

Will Be Held in El Paso Oct. 14-18; Dedicate Monster Dam

Fresno, center of the San Joaquin Valley irrigation district, is to be ably represented this year at the international irrigation congress, which will convene in El Paso, October 14, for a five day session. L. A. Nares, president of the Fresno Canal and Irrigation Company, L. T. Galt, manager of the firm, and H. W. Richards of Manchester, England, a stockholder in the company, have already made reservations for the trip to the congress. A. C. Wisham, general manager of the San Joaquin Light and Power Company, will also attend the meeting in behalf of the power company.

Though Nares is president of the canal company his trip to the congress will be in the role of an interested visitor, unless he is called upon by the city authorities or some of the civic bodies to appear as their special representative. This is very likely, it was stated last night, and action along these lines will probably be taken at an early meeting.

While the international irrigation congress has been in existence for 25 years past, holding sessions nearly every year since its organization in various places throughout what used to be known as the semi-arid section of the country, the congress to be held in El Paso will be one of the most important from many points of view, held since the first congress met in Salt Lake City in 1891. That this will be true is due to the number and importance of the questions which will come up for discussion and possible settlement.

Irrigation as a means of reclaiming arid lands is one of the oldest institutions on earth, but the systematic conservation of water and its application to lands for agricultural purposes are comparatively new, and it is with these questions that the delegates to the congress will contend, thrashing out each subject in turn and solving reclamation problems to the great benefit of the community where irrigation is an absolute necessity.

Since the passage of the reclamation act in 1902 as many as 27 great irrigation projects have been undertaken by the United States government under the direction of the department of the interior. As a result hundreds of thousands of acres of fertile lands, providing homesteads for many thousands of home-building settlers have been reclaimed.

Of the total number of projects undertaken by the government, four are in the immediate vicinity of El Paso—the Roosevelt or Salt River project in Arizona; the Hondo and Carlsbad projects in New Mexico, and the Elephant Butte project in New Mexico. The greatest of these dams in point of expense, in point of size and in volume of water stored, is the Elephant Butte dam, the dedication of which by President Wilson or an accredited personal representative will be the crown jewel feature of the annual meeting of the international irrigation congress of 1916, to be held at this dam October 14.

RE-ELECTION FIGHT IS STARTED BY CHURCH

Incumbent Congressional Nominee Speaks to Madera Crowd

Democratic Achievements Key Note Candidate's Long Address

Denver S. Church, incumbent candidate for congress from the seventh district, last night fired the opening gun in his campaign for re-election. He spoke before a large crowd of Maderans at the Madera county seat, touching during his address upon the various legislative achievements of the Democratic administration and warning his listeners against assuming the responsibility of changing about the change in administration at a time when the entire future of the United States government was at stake.

The church meeting was called to order by John Griffin, and the speaker of the night was introduced to the throng by Dr. Mary R. Rutledge. Among the speakers present was Walter C. Maloy, Democratic nominee for Assemblyman from the forty-ninth district.

A large delegation of church supporters followed the incumbent candidate's machine from Fresno to the Madera meeting place. Twelve autos were filled with the congressman's friends and driven from in front of the courthouse to the meeting. A brass band led the parade, and a display of fireworks marked the trail of the autos.

"More progressive, constructive and remedial legislation has been passed during the past four years than at any time since the Civil War," declared Church in the course of his address. Among other subjects Church discussed were income tax, preparedness, the measures, the federal reserve bill, the $75,000,000 good roads bill and the $10,000,000 national park and forest reserve bill.

Church's speech in part is:

"This country is now enjoying the greatest season of prosperity it has ever known, and in addition this we are also enjoying peace, while all the rest of the great nations of the world are at war. Think of it, my friends, peace and prosperity, two of the greatest blessings that can exist in any home or country. Yet there are some people in this country who are not satisfied, but that is because they do not put the best interest of the people to the forefront in their thoughts and actions, as President Wilson has persisted in doing for the past four years. For these reasons, I am convinced we should leave 'good enough' alone, for we do not want war, and we have full assurance that the present administration will not hurl us into war without a just cause.

"My opponent says that he has but one plank in his platform, the protection of the farmer of the San Joaquin valley. Where is the man who ever ran for congress in this district, including myself, who did not have this ambition. We all would like to do something to build up our district, bring more wealth, greater development and happiness to the people in general and I think I am safe in saying that every man who has served this district has striven hard to accomplish his ambition. However, it is true during these fearful days when the world is passing through its darkest night, I as your congressman, have other interests of the nation to serve, and should my opponent succeed in landing the position he seeks, he will find a thousand and one other matters of intense importance to engage his mind when he arrives in Washington and takes up his duty of lawmaking. If he really believes in protecting the farmer, he should change his position again and come back into the Democratic fold.

"Under the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, all the farming implements used by the farmer, including the harrow, cultivator, reaper, mowing machine, etc., were protected by an 'import duty' of 15 per cent ad valorem, which the farmer had to pay when he purchased his implements. Under the present tariff law, the protection is removed from these and all other farm implements, saving the farmer of the San Joaquin valley thousands of dollars yearly. But there is little use in going into detail on the tariff question, for the passage of the non-political tariff commission law last month largely removes the subject from politics insofar as the future is concerned.

"In my estimation, there is no other law in this country of greater importance to the farmer than the non-partisan tariff commission law. Shortly after arriving in Washington four years ago, I became fully persuaded that the business interests of this country should not be submitted each year to the whims of political notions

Our Waists and Petticoats are marked at a percentage of profit that makes their cost to our customers as low as the average merchant pays for them in the Eastern Markets.

there are two kinds of values, one the kind where price is the only consideration, the other a question of price, but not of price alone—a lasting quality and fashion as well. With this latter kind you will find the store brim full—in common with the entire organization.

Painless Prohibition

They are positive it won't hurt. The leaders of the prohibition campaign in California maintain that they can extract the wine industry out of the State's economic structure without causing the patient a single pang of pain. The operation will do him good, they maintain with a straight face.

Is this assertion true? Will California benefit by the choking of the wine business? Will the grape industry have to take gas when wine grapes are pulled up by the roots? Can the wine-grape growers raise alfalfa and peaches on their vineyard land? If they can't substitute other crops, what can they do?

"I can take in washing," says Mrs. Billings.

How to Keep Well, Talks on Health

By DR. W. A. EVANS
Professor of Hygiene in Northwestern University and Former Health Commissioner of Chicago

IMAGINARY ILLS

A noted pugilist, a perfect physical specimen and a fearless fighter, had some domestic trouble and developed a fear that he was losing his mind. Under the influence of this fear he developed a string of symptoms. A sheep rancher who had passed through the most nerve trying experience without semblance of fear developed fear of cancer of the stomach. His fear caused him to lose his appetite, suffer pain in his stomach, become very nervous and to stay awake at night. A policeman who had been in more than one gun fight and who had never shown the white feather was cited before the trial board on charges. He became afraid for his good name, his position and his money matters. He developed a fear of insanity and this caused insomnia and pains in the head.

A general with a history of bravery and valor suffered an injury to his spine and developed a fear of paralysis. This fear caused him to become nervous and sleepless and to have pain and great weakness in his back.

A mine manager with courage enough to kick out of his office three men who held revolvers at his head developed a fear of the pain occasioned in injecting a nerve. In spite of his nerve and bravery the pain of a needle prick "got his goat."

A physician developed a fear that he would die from heart failure. A few years ago after running for a train, he noted that his heart was pounding hard. The thought flashed through his mind that acute dilation of the heart was possible. After that he became a victim of a set fear of heart disease.

Dr. Patrick, who cites these cases, says that however brave a man may be he is liable to develop a fear of something with which he is not familiar. In most instances all that is needed for cure is a careful search for the cause of the fear, a detailed understandable explanation of the humbleness of the fear, and some education of the subject in control.

"Even the most well possessed of men are largely controlled by instincts and emotions, not by knowledge and judgement. Fear is a powerful emotion."

There is a difference not usually recognized between fear and morbid impulse. A woman 50 years of age would not go near a window in office buildings, because she had an overpowering fear that she would suddenly lose control of herself and jump out. A man had an impulse to kill his two sons and became morbid because of the fear that he would yield. A devoted mother became morbid because she was afraid that she would have a sudden impulse to kill her two little girls.

Patrick notes that these are not cases of impulse. They are simple cases of fear. The possibility that the impulse will come is negligible. Dr. Patrick says that people who are dominated by an idea are particularly prone to these fears. "The born enthusiast makes a fine phobic." The person suffering from a fear may not know that he is afraid.

A drummer could not go into a restaurant without becoming shaky and suffering from palpitation of the heart, pain in his heart, nausea, and cold perspiration. On close questioning him it developed that he had once suffered from ptomaine poisoning, but he entirely overlooked any possible relation between this experience and his symptoms.

"3. Will X-ray treatments cure such glands?"

"4. Do you advise going to a dry climate?"

MILK FOR BABY

Mrs. J. C. C. writes: "Will you kindly tell me exactly the proper way to prepare cow's milk for a baby 2 months old? I nurse the baby, but do not think my milk is nourishing."

Reply—Keep your baby at the breast unless you are absolutely certain that your milk is disagreeing and reasonably certain that cow's milk will agree better. The trouble may lie elsewhere than in your milk. Do you feed him too often? Does he keep you awake at night? Does he suck too much? If you must wean him, try to nurse him until he is at least 3 months old. If you must bottle feed him, after he is three months old, dilute the milk as follows: Dilute 16 ounces of milk with 16 ounces of water. Add 2 tablespoons of sugar and 2 ounces lime water. This should be given in six feedings. Reduce the amount of water in the mixture by one-half ounce each week. Let me suggest that you write to the children's bureau, department of la-

PROSPERITY DAY TO BE CELEBRATED

All to Rejoice Over Good
Time in Valley at Gathering Here

A day on which to hold a general celebration of the prosperous era now being enjoyed in the San Joaquin Valley will be selected soon at a meeting of representatives of all the civic bodies of Fresno county. It is expected that October 19 will be chosen as the day and that the festival will be called the Fresno County Prosperity Day.

Plans discussed tentatively yesterday by John A. New, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Fresno county, are fulfilled, the big Fresno city auditorium will be used for the Prosperity Day celebration and that part of the big program will include the dedication of the great pipe organ in the convention hall. Other matters that will probably be added to the program of events will be general discussions among the county's prominent men on subjects concerning the welfare of the general community. Good road talks will not be overlooked, and several strong speakers will be present to urge the audience to give their support to the bond election to be held October 24. All will be invited to attend the gathering and an excellent time is assured, for many entertainers will be present to make Prosperity Day long remembered.

For Washington, D. C., for their free booklet, "Infant Care."

RECOMMENDS REMEDY

A reader writes: "In your reply to Mrs. H. H.'s letter regarding itchy you recommended 'sulphur ointment.' This is all right for mild cases that have not spread much. The best and absolutely sure remedy is balm of Peru (Peru balsam), but it must be the genuine article."

Two Miles in 2:07 1/2
and 2:07 1/2

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 2.—Two world's records were made by The Real Lady in winning the two-year-old division of the Kentucky Futurity, the annual event of the opening day of the forty-fourth annual meeting of the Kentucky Trotting Horsebreeders' Association here today.

The Murphy entry trotted the first heat in 2:07 1/2, winning the formative heat of 2:07 1/2 for two-year-olds, the individual event of the opening day of the forty-fourth annual meeting of the Kentucky Trotting Horsebreeders' Association here today.

The Real Lady won the first heat in 2:07 1/2, the second heat in 2:07 1/2, and by no doing establishing a new two-year-old record for two-year-olds.

Mary Coburn was second in each heat, while third place went to Bertie McGuire, when worthy Volo and Harvest Gate, third and fourth, respectively, in the first heat, were distanced in the second heat.

The Real Lady was bred at Walnut Hall farm here, owned by the late Mr. J. H. Moke, to win the two-year-old futurity.

The first heat developed some remarkable racing, Harvest Gate, the fourth horse inside the flag, trotting in 2:09 1/2. The mark set by The Real Lady gives Thomas Murphy both the two-year-old filly and colt record, by having driven Peter Volo when this colt made the record of 2:04 1/2.

The Walnut Hall cup, 2:12 trot, was hardly more than a work out for Mabel Trask, who won the classic in straight heats. Among favorites, which set the pace in all three heats, finished second in each. Third money went to George Summers.

Each of the two class events resulted in split heats. Frederick Hills won the 2:14 race after Major A. had taken the first heat. White Sox captured the 2:08 race in straight heats, after Capt. won the first heat. Beth Clark won second money and Stratford and Consequence had divided third and fourth money.

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—Mrs. J. V. Hurd of Pittsburg, who is Miss Dorothy Campbell, was champion woman golfer of this country, Great Britain and Canada, was medalist today in the qualifying round of the women's national golf championship at the Belmont Stirling Country Club. Duck Season in State to Open October 15

MARYSVILLE, Cal., Oct. 2.—Speculation as to the date of the opening of the duck shooting season was ended here today when George Neale, assistant commissioner of the California state fish and game commission, stated that the closed season would end October 14 and that on the following day hunters would be legally entitled to commence the fall shooting. This ruling was in accordance with the prevailing state law, which provides that the duck season shall open when an eastern agency distributes a circular which said that the federal law prohibited that the season did not open until October 16.

Kid Williams Gets Bettler of Kaufman

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—Kid Williams, the bantamweight champion of the world, outclassed Kenny Kaufman, Philadelphia's best bantamweight, in six rounds here tonight. After the third round, Kaufman weakened rapidly from the effects of terrific body punches which the champion appeared to place at will. A short right hook under the heart started Kaufman going and from then until the finish Williams danced around him, landing many effective blows to the head and body.

FORTUNE PICKED from ONE TREE

Valuable Alligator Pear Is Surrounded by Lattice Fence to Protect It from Damage by Order of Lloyd's, Who Carried Insurance Until Production Began to Show Decrease.

BY MORRIS M. BATHBUN.

TOW would you like to own a fruit tree that kept you among the income tax payers? And, wouldn't you be disappointed if Lloyd's of London told you that they did not care to carry longer a policy on it for $30,000?

This is the situation of H. A. Woodworth of Whittier, Cal., on whose place is standing what is known as the Gantor Avocado. To the unsophisticated in fruit lore, it may be explained that avocado is translated into alligator pear, common in Hawaii and Mexico, but scarce enough to be a delicacy in this country.

The war in Europe is held directly responsible for the valuable tree now being without insurance, Lloyd's announcing a prohibitive premium for continuance of the protection that had been granted for several years. Expert opinion also had something to do with failure to renew the big policy, as one of the conditions insisted upon by the underwriters was that the valuable tree should be protected by a huge lattice fence. This was designed to prevent damage from wind or predatory animals, but when there was a slight falling off this season in the budding, horticulturists thought that perhaps the lattice work was a handicap to health.

THE valuable tree is known as the Gantor Avocado, taking its name from the variety. It was planted eleven years ago and has borne in a single year. The average annual revenue is something over $2000.

Curiously enough, a twin tree adjacent to the Gantor, almost the same size and having had practically the same attention, does not produce at all. The trees were planted close together at the same time under similar conditions and from the same stock. Some horticultural theorists have declared that pollenization is responsible for the condition and believe that the male tree furnishes in part its vitality to the twin, the result being an increased yield in the pollenized tree. Other variations are known where this condition has existed.

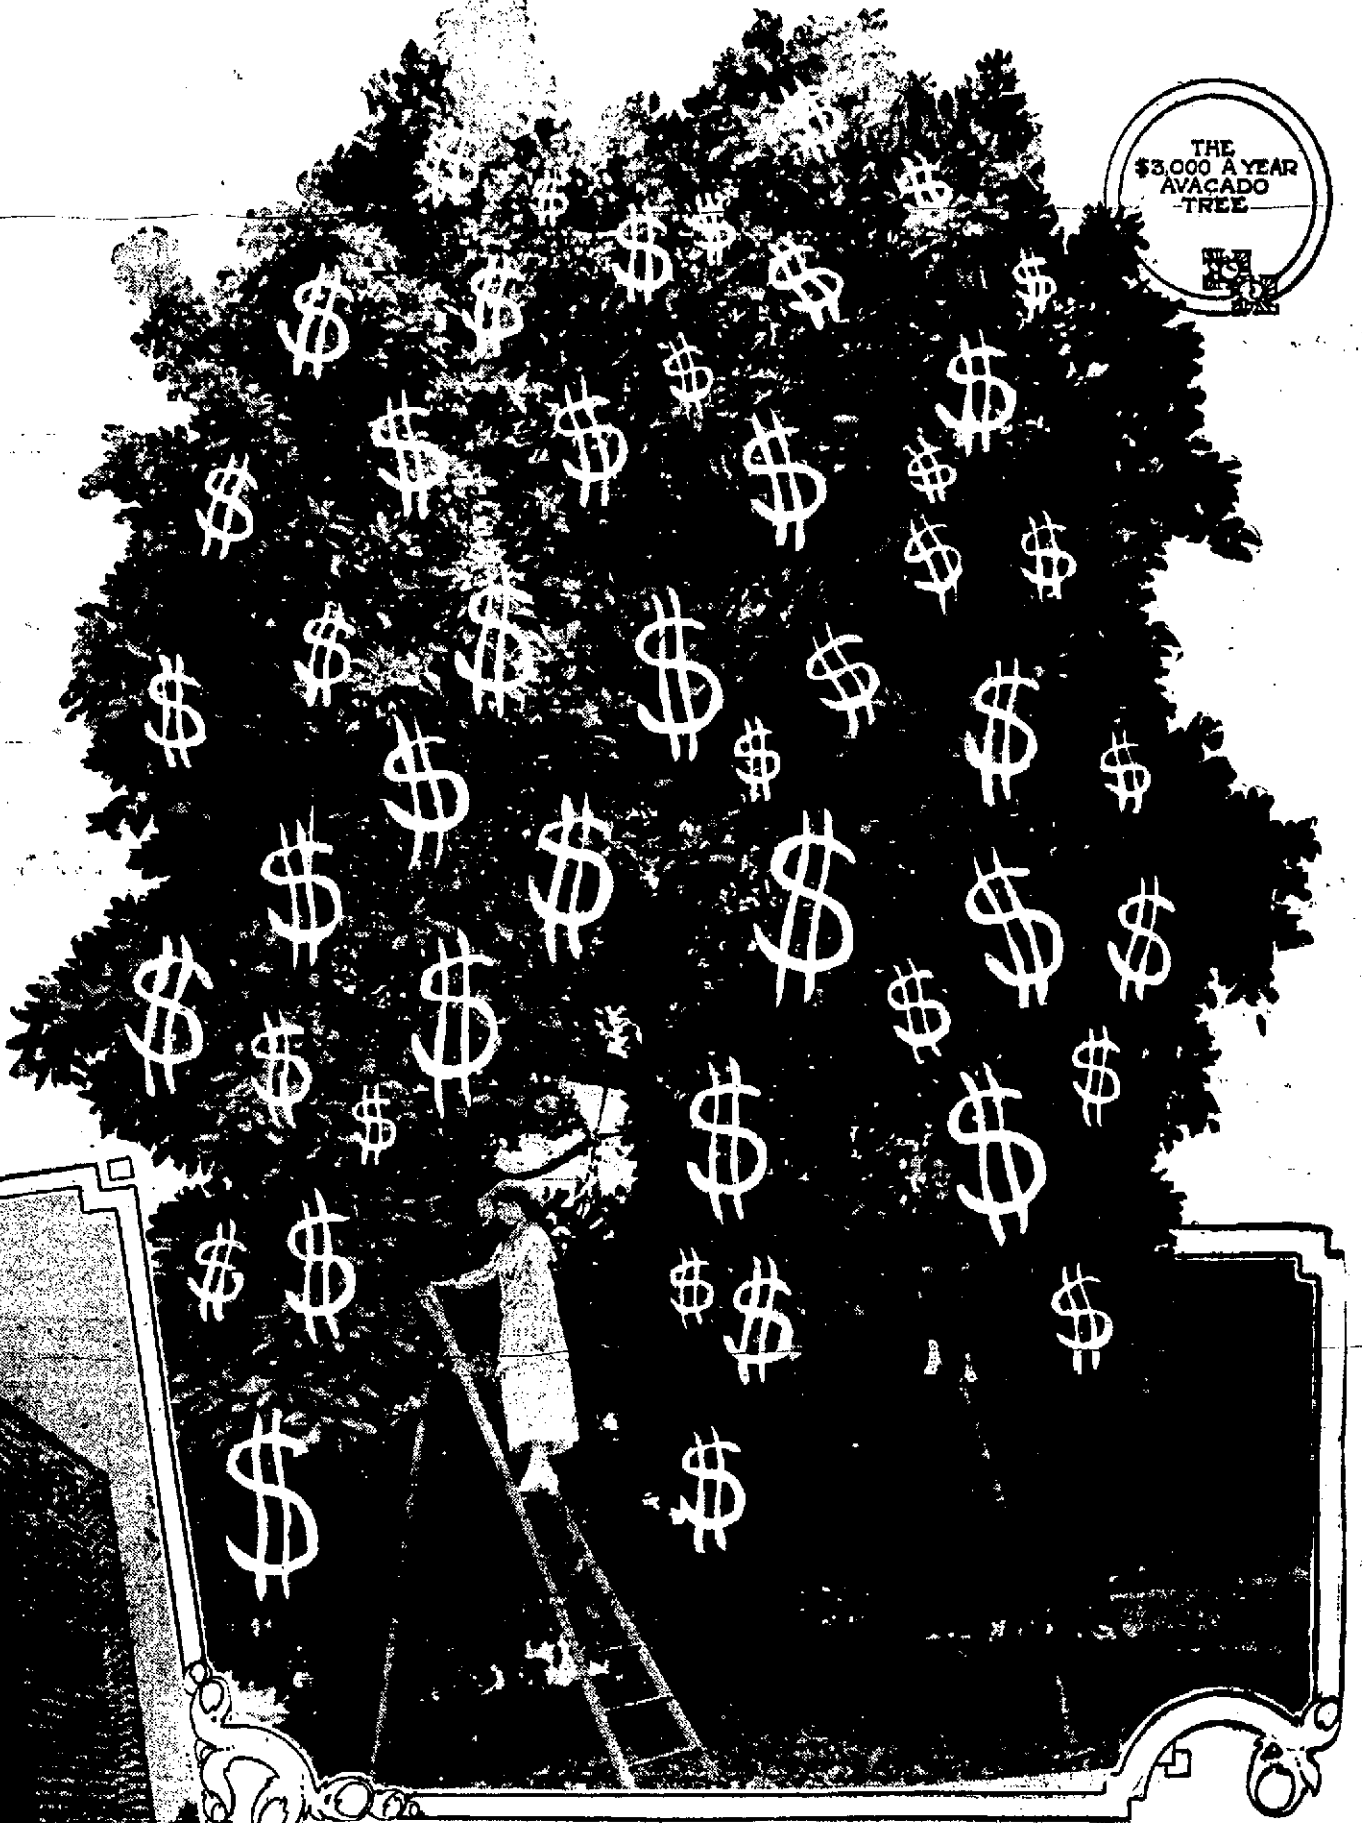

Tree Is Under Constant Guard

THE tree is at the edge of an orange grove on the Woodworth place, and, although it is in close proximity to the house, it is necessary to watch it constantly to prevent the curious and others from mutilating it. In recent years the avocado industry has developed considerably in Southern California and reports of large returns from a single tree have inspired many to obtain cuttings from the best bearing trees for planting in back yards.

Records made by some well-known trees like the Gantor and others have led to false impressions regarding the producing powers of the trees as a whole. The avocado is sometimes a shy bearer and occasionally misses a season or two. By and large, however, it may be considered Southern California's most valuable and profitable tree.

The first trees were planted in this section twenty years ago. The first seeds are credited to Hawaii, although it has been familiar to Southern Mexico for generations. Later both Hawaiian and Mexican varieties were planted, but only in very limited quantities. Florida claims to have preceded California in introducing the fruit, which within the past few years has come to be regarded as a great delicacy.

Shaped very much like the ordinary green pear and about the same size, the avocado is both soft and hard skinned. It has a large stone in the center similar to that of a peach. The flesh is soft, about the consistency of a profusely. Last year there were 5400 avocados harvested, nearly 1000 of which were sold to larger hotels in the East. The comfortable income brought in by the tree may be understood when it is known that the fruits sell for an average of 50 cents each, and, in addition to this revenue, there is a large demand for cuttings from the tree. Nursery stock from the big producer is shipped to all parts of the world where climate and soil are suitable for growth.

A record number of fruits were obtained from the tree in 1915. Since it has been bearing it has never brought to its owner less than $2000 bananas, and frequently is used in sandwiches, as peanut butter, or the fruit is served as a salad, with pepper and salt dressing. In Hawaii and Mexico it grows wild and abundantly, and is eaten freely by the natives. Its food value is remarkably high, according to government analysis, and it is very high among fruits for digestibility and hygienic qualities.

Strict Quarantine on Fruit

WITHIN the last few years Southern Californians have given serious consideration to growing avocados commercially. They are valued by the government in this, as there is a very strict quarantine on the fruit, cuttings or seeds from Mexico, Hawaii or any other country, owing to the fear the Mediterranean fly pest, which is found in the countries named. Rather than take the risk the United States has prohibited absolutely any importations whatsoever, which condition means that all of the fruit that is to be had in the future must be grown in the United States.

Southern California, Florida, Louisiana, Arizona and Texas grow the fruit in limited quantities. The rich returns from individual trees make the prospect of an orchard alluring, but so far only the most experienced growers have been able to make commercial successes. The prevailing prices are high, but gradually are coming down as the production is being increased. Three years ago in Los Angeles avocados were from $10 to $12 a dozen. Now only the choice ones bring half that amount. It is not infrequent to see them for sale at $1 a dozen, although, as in other fruits, the best ones command high prices—some $5 to $6 a dozen.

Experts have estimated that should planting continue at the present rate for the next twenty years and the supply be increased until the fruits bring only 5 cents each, there will still be a good profit for the grower. It is claimed by some that there is no possibility of over-supply, as the trees must have time to grow and there is a constantly widening demand for the fruit. In tropical countries the fruit is said to almost take the place of bread as the staff of life, and it is believed that this popularity among the people generally will be duplicated here when the fruit is within the purse limitations of the masses.

Envid by Their Neighbors

MEANWHILE owners of producing trees are the envid of their neighbors. There are odd instances in Southern California where trees whose classification has been unknown, hidden away perhaps in a back yard or other out-of-way corner, suddenly have begun bearing fruit that brings astonishing prices. Single trees bringing from $100 to $500 in a season are not uncommon. Unusual trees bring larger incomes, but to date, none has rivaled the famous Gantor tree at Whittier which, since it lattice covering has been removed, is expected to increase its annual yield.

This is a cheerful prospect for the owner of the Gantor as there apparently is no age limit for bearing. Trees in Mexico 100 years old are still healthy and bearing regularly, so that barring accident, the children's children of Mr. Woodworth may sing fervently "Woodman, Spare That Tree."

New Expressions Are Coined to Designate War Nations

TO BE theoretically, at peace with another country and yet to make seizures of her ships and take actions calculated to arouse her anger, is the unique position occupied by Italy and Germany with respect to each other. It has caused the invention of a new descriptive phrase, "the expression 'enemy country' used to designate those at war with one another, obviously was not suited to this situation, neither could the nations be called 'friendly.' Italy took the first step in establishing a new designation by terming Germany 'a country allied with Italy's enemies.' The Germans have adopted a phrase with a similar meaning to express their relations, or lack of relations, with Italy.

Each country has taken action at various times, which, ordinarily, would lead to a declaration of war. First, Italy seized the German merchantmen in her harbor soon after war was declared with Austria-Hungary. Soon afterwards it was thought advisable to prohibit the exportation of foodstuffs and raw materials to Germany, because it was believed that such exportation would assist the Austrians at least indirectly; besides which, it would be giving assistance to an enemy country of those nations with which Italy now is allied in her fight against Austria.

Measures of reprisal against Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria have at various times been undertaken by the Italian Government and, in all the official decrees pertaining to such matters, the designation "the ally of a country at war with Italy" has been used.

The Germans, on their part, have not treated

Italy as a friendly or neutral nation. They first directed their efforts to cutting Italian communications with such sea raiders as were at liberty. Later, when Italy began the work of strengthening fortifications along the Swiss frontier, in the expectation of invasion from that direction by Teutonic armies, the Imperial Government did its best to stir up trouble between Switzerland and Italy. It was suggested to the Swiss Government by the German agents that the Italians had in view the seizure of the Canton of Ticino and that protective measures should be undertaken by the little neutral.

These suggestions, made much in the same manner as the ones in which Germany "ruined" Holland that England was considering the violation of that country's neutrality, were not without their effect and, for a time, caused considerable "nervousness" in Switzerland.

The government, however, it was reported, instead of immediately accepting the German offers of aid in protecting the frontier, requested Italy to inform them of her intentions and was assured that the strengthening of fortresses and maintaining of large forces in Lombardy were done solely with the purpose of guarding against a surprise attack from Teutonic forces, which might violate the neutrality of Switzerland in order to make a successful invasion of Italy on the frontier where the least resistance could be expected. Switzerland, satisfied with this explanation, thereafter turned deaf ears to the insinuations of German agents.

Such confidence did the government have in the good faith of the Italians, that they found themselves able to reduce the large patrols maintained up to that time along the border.

CITY TRUSTEES

NUMBERING SYSTEM FOR STREETS ADOPTED

All Main Thoroughfares to Be Known Numerically

Start With A Street as Eleventh, J to Be Twentieth

After several vain endeavors to change the names of the streets in the business part of the city, with the idea of making them euphonious and at the same time preserve a system that would make the location of any address easy, the city trustees within a few minutes last night discarded all former plans and authorized the drafting of an ordinance numbering all the main thoroughfares.

Beginning with A street as 11th street this numbering proceeds to the eastern city limits, keeping pace with the present system of block numbering. 1 street in this manner becomes 11th street as the 1900 block begins here. Likewise J will be 20th, K or Van Ness avenue, 21st, and so on to Angus street. This thoroughfare is the only one that will retain its old name, as it marks the change in direction. Continuing out through Arlington Heights and the additions to the city, the numbering system will be followed.

It was proposed to continue the numbering from A street west to the city limits, in the same manner, the 100 block on cross-town streets would start at the western city limits. Because the streets are short, and for the further reason they made irregular intersections with avenues, it was proposed to allow them to retain their old names.

By continuing the numbering system to the west, Mayor Cobb, Jones and Pickford streets and Snow avenue, named after the city dignitaries, will retain their present names, unless in the final drafting of the ordinance the trustees decide to make the numbering plan complete.

Trustee G. W. Jones cast the only dissenting vote. He did not approve any change in the present system, he said.

Only one difficulty was suggested to the new plan. Streets beyond Angus which join the old part of the city at an angle cannot in all cases have the block numbers correspond with the street numbers. Following the passage of the proposed ordinance some plan of renumbering the blocks of these streets may be suggested.

Father of Plan.

Trustee J. C. Fager was the member of the board that brought light into the seemingly purposeless discussion of the members last night. Last week Mayor Snow vetoed the ordinance passed at the last meeting in which the streets were re-named. He referred to the numbering plan in his veto but it was Fager who finally hit upon the solution of making the streets and numbers correspond.

The proposed system, it is pointed out, will greatly facilitate the finding of any address. As an example, 2020 Tulare street will be just beyond 20th or J street. Strangers will be able to go directly to any given number, without

CONTRACTS ARE LET FOR BRIDGES AND ROSE

Small Improvements Are Ordered, Go Into Executive Session

Must Pay for Political Meetings in Auditorium

Several small contracts for improvements and a contract for the purchase of fire hose were awarded last night at the meeting of the city trustees.

Four bridges on California avenue will be completed by extending the approaches on both sides and a fifth will be built at Santa Clara and California avenues. All of the repairs are necessary, as the approaches were of a temporary nature. The work is to be of concrete construction. Jap E. Mitchell was awarded the contract for $1095. Other bidders were Worwick Paving Company, $1705, and Frederick & Shogren, $1935.

D. Zelinsky & Sons, Inc., was awarded the contract for repainting, tinting and varnishing the interior of the city hall. Their bid was $718. Patterson-Dick Company bid $837 and George Churcher $745. As the successful bidder was a San Francisco firm, Trustees Irwin, Cobb and Pickford voted against awarding the contract, stating that they would rather let local firms have the job.

Before considering the bids on the fire hose, the trustees went into executive session, giving the representative of each bidding company a right to speak.

The bids on the fire hose were as follows: American La France, different grades, ranging from 75 to 80 cents; C. C. C. Fire Hose Company, various grades, 62 to 80 cents; Boston Hosiery Company, 74 cents; Bowers Rubber Works, 65 to 80 cents; American Rubber Works, 60 cents; U. S. Rubber Company, 65c to $1.10, and Republic Rubber Company, 70 to 80 cents. The board accepted the bid of the Republic Rubber Company for 2300 feet of 7 1/2 inch brand hose at 60 cents, and that of the American Rubber Company for 2500 feet of Cracker-Jack brand hose at 60 cents.

The bill of the American LaFrance Company for the three pieces of fire apparatus recently furnished the city, amounting to $22,110, was allowed. The original agreement called for a complete cash payment. Before allowing the bill, the trustees conferred in executive session as to whether Inquiring directions, or the names of the streets cutting the cross-town avenues. Mayor Snow, while refusing to concur with any of the former proposals of the board to re-name the business streets, expressed his approval of the proposed ordinance.

FRESNAN SENT TO STOCKTON ASYLUM

R. P. Ullin, 26 years old, was examined as to his sanity by a board of fire Superior Court upon complaint made by Mrs. B. P. Ullin, and upon a report made by the examining physicians was ordered committed to the Stockton asylum. Mrs. Ullin told the court and examiners that her husband feared the British were after him because he believed himself to have invented fifty-five different things with which to stop the present war.

SANTA FE PLANS FARMERS' SPECIAL

Train Will Strike Valley About Nov. 18; Devote Day to Fresno

The third Farmers' Special to be promoted by the Santa Fe system will leave Chicago for San Francisco on Thursday, November 3, according to word which has been received by the local Santa Fe office. The special will enter the San Joaquin Valley on or about November 15, and will be in Fresno either the 21st or 22nd of November.

The train is designed to give those farmers who make the trip an idea of the land and products of California, in order that they may know what sort of farms can be found in the San Joaquin Valley, Southern California and other points along the route. The men making the trip will be under the personal escort of J. L. Seagraves, industrial commissioner of the Santa Fe, who was in Fresno this summer making preliminary plans for the work of his office locally. Royer M. Roberts, agricultural and industrial agent, will also be one of the members of the party.

Walter P. Maloy, secretary of the San Joaquin Valley Counties Association, will have complete charge of the entertainment of the tourists during their stay in the San Joaquin Valley. The eastern farmers will be taken to visit all points of interest and will be shown the products of the valley, methods of farming and other matters of interest to a farmer.

The tentative schedule of the Farmers' Special to the San Joaquin Valley is as follows:

November 21, Hanford; November 22, Tulare, Visalia and Reedley; November 23, Fresno and surrounding country; November 24, Merced, Fresno and Riverbank; November 25, Stockton.

They would ask for time payments, but decided to make the payment in one sum.

Following their announced plan, the trustees last night refused to allow the free use of the municipal auditorium to the California Campaign Federation on October 22 for a dry meeting. Heretofore the Republican, Democratic and Socialist parties have been charged the regular rental of $40 a night.

The Christian Science church, which had engaged the hall for two nights, asked that it have the use of the grant to other churches when no advertisement was charged. They were allowed to have the use of the hall for $20 per night.

A committee of the police and firemen was granted the free use of the hall for the annual dance on February 25.

Joseph Koplan and L. Gotsberg were granted second hand dealers license upon the recommendation of the mayor and chief of police.

To Drain Inyo

The complaint of E. T. West, an Inyo street resident, that storm waters inundated his place, asking that the trustees order that the proper drainage be given, was referred to the city attorney. He was authorized to instruct the Southern Pacific Company to construct three culverts under the Priant tracks, to allow the storm water to escape.

The petition of the Board of Education that a crossing be made over the First street bridge between Butte and Ventura avenues was also referred to the city attorney. The railroad commission does not have the power to declare a street opening, over the right of way, according to City Attorney H. H. Smith.

A petition of the Southern Pacific Company to allow wiring to their new station underground, was granted. A short trench will have to be made across H street, near Tulare street.

The request of Earl Towner to give orchestra concerts in the municipal auditorium was denied. Last meeting the request was referred to the building committee. Trustee Fager reported that the committee had no funds, as the entire sum at their disposal had been utilized to pay for the season's band concerts.

A bill of Barbours & Cashin for appearing for the city at telephone rate hearing at Sacramento, Stockton and Fresno, was allowed.

The recommendation that Engine House No. 2 be enlarged to properly protect the new aerial was referred to the building committee. Pending the drafting of a new tariff ordinance a recommendation to prohibit the parking of motor cars opposite Engine House No. 2 was referred to the city superintendent of streets.

Resolutions of intention were passed to place a 10 inch sewer in new place and to have Tulare avenue from First street to Sixth street. A resolution was passed ordering the opening of Howard street through block 166.

The city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for a new residence on the corner of 1st and 2nd streets, destroyed by fire last week ago.

The petition of the Fresno newspaper for an increase in the legal advertising rate from 25 cents to 30 cents a square was granted, to take effect January 1, 1917.

COUNTY SHOULD PAY COST IN PART, SAY SUPERVISORS

Resolution Passed to Share Expense of Highway Link

County Officers Vote to Accept Ruling of State Engineers

A resolution was unanimously adopted by the board of supervisors yesterday that in the event that the good roads bond election carries on October 24, the county enter into an agreement with the state department of engineering to pay such portion of the cost of the construction of the road as may be agreed upon with the state engineers.

The following is the resolution as adopted by the supervisors of Fresno county at a regular meeting of the board yesterday:

"Whereas, by Section 4 of Chapter 404, Statutes of 1915, providing for the issuance and sale of additional bonds to complete the state highway system, it is provided that a connection shall be made between the Valley Trunk line and the Coast-Trunk line of said state highway system, by a highway passing through Coalinga; and

"Whereas, it appears from a preliminary estimate of the cost of such connection that the proportion of such cost to be borne by Fresno county will not exceed $150,000, including the cost to Fresno county of such portion of the county highway system as may be constructed from the proceeds of the sale of bonds to be issued by said county, and which may be taken over by the state highway commission as a part of such connection; and

"Whereas, the construction of such connection will be of great benefit to the San Joaquin Valley, and particularly to Fresno county, as a whole; therefore be it

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this board that in the event the proposition now pending involving the issuance of Fresno county highway bonds shall carry at the election, and the county of Fresno shall enter into agreement with the state department of engineering to bear and pay such portion of the cost of said construction as may be agreed upon with said state department of engineering."

Auto Strikes Clovis Stage; Three Injured

Stage Turns Over Twice From Force of Impact by Car

Three occupants of the Clovis stage narrowly escaped death yesterday afternoon about 4:30 when a car driven by Frank Henry, Mahoney and Powers, collided with the stage at Van Ness avenue and Mahoney avenue. The stage turned over twice, and was practically demolished.

Mrs. Amanda Brewer sustained a fractured left arm and Mrs. S. Croft a laceration of the forehead. Roy Landers escaped with bruises. All of the injured persons live in Clovis and were en route to that city when the accident occurred.

Henry, accompanied by his wife, was driving east on Mahoney. The stage going north had the right of way. Henry's car struck the stage exactly in the center, spinning it around and causing it to turn over twice. The women were treated by Dr. W. L. Adams. Mrs. Brewer was ordered to the county hospital.

It Costs Less to Use These Things Now

The ordinary house uses $1.00 worth of electricity every month at a cost of 8c per K. H. W.

After this amount is consumed the cost is reduced to 4c so this means that the use of electric irons, percolators, toasters, etc., cost but 4c per K. H. W. which is just half what it used to be.

You can now use electric appliances more freely without adding to your monthly electric light bill.
